FARMVILLE.

The recent meeting of the farmers was one of the best ever held in our town. Allen, the old war horse stirred them to the depths and there was awakened new determination to "stand together." And when they do, and so long as they do they will be as men of histories, as ever the immortal "Stonewall" was, and now that I am discussing the subject I am reminded that the farmers are on top. I appreciate the fact that labor is scarce and high, but I know too that prices are higher still. Take this incident and illustration—A young farmer drove into town a few days since in his buggy bringing a ham and twelve chickens and carried back home the best part of a ten dollar bill—to be accurate $7.72. All the expenses of that farmer will be met, no doubt, from the sale of such articles and when the tobacco and other crops are sold, the surplus will be converted into an interest-bearing fund.

Merchants are not doing anything like so well as a general thing.

Since I watched the sale of these dozen chickens at the fancy price mentioned, I have made a short stay at Sunny Side, Cumberland County, where I had a pleasant chat with Mr. Fred Frayser, who has contracted to furnish a New York hotel during the coming winter with one thousand broilers for which he is to receive 50 cents a pound, or some 75 cents a piece for young chickens. A few years ago that was considered a good price for a well grown turkey. Verily there is life in the old land yet.

Mr. Carson, an accomplished graduate of William & Mary, and who has been lecturing most acceptably in the summer Normal here, on nature study, will have charge of our high school for the coming session.

Mrs. Cochrane, who has been in charge of the home department of the State Female Normal, has resigned, and the hope is entertained by all Farmville that Mrs. Morrison, who for so many years filled the position with signal ability and fidelity, will be returned to it. No better selection could possibly be made.

Dr. Eddie Richardson and wife, of Baltimore, have been guests of Mr. W. F. Richardson.

Miss Eakes, of Charleston, W. Va., has been visiting friends in town.

Miss Ella Agnew, of Nottoway, has been brightening our social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Berkeley, after two weeks spent at the old home, have gone to Baltimore, where they will remain until the 1st of August, and then return to Raleigh, N. C.

Dr. Holladay and bride have returned from their wedding tour and are at home at Hampden-Sidney.

The summer Normal hurries to a close but the State Normal will follow quite on it's heels.

A travelling man gave me this as the bill of fare at one of our hotels for breakfast on last Friday morning: Peaches and Force, beef steak veal cutlets, ham and eggs, fried chicken, French fried potatoes, coffee, iced tea and milk. And all well cooked. "How's that for high living?" Farmville will be crowded "of Sundays" with "Knights of the grip" when it is known that such feasts are being spread and all for fifty cents. A meal like that at the Jefferson would run up into the dollars.

Miss Sallie Bidgood, of Petersburg, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. J. B. Wall.

The demand for carpenters here is unprecedented.

The vegetables of the season were never more abundant or of better variety.

The new passenger train on the Tidewater & Western is a great convenience, especially to the citizens of Cumberland and Powhatan.

Mrs. P. W. McKinney and her daughter, Miss Frankie are summering at the Blue Ridge. Governor McKinney preferred it to any of the resorts.

Mrs. Dr. Pratt and family, of Buckingham C. H. will occupy the home of Maj. J. R. Martin for the coming season. It is one of the most desirable residences in our town. Major and Mrs. Martin will board with her.

Capt. D. Barton Blanton and wife, of New York, are visiting friends in Farmville. Captain Blanton has won enviable reputation in the business circles of the great city.

President Jarman will leave for a two-weeks vacation August 1st.

Dr. McBryde, of the Sweet Briar faculty, delivered an interesting address before the Summer Normal on Friday evening last.

Major Blanton accompanied the editors on their trip to Boston.

Mrs. E. T. Rice, one of our eldest residents, is critically ill.

Miss Pattie Watkins, who taught in North Carolina last session, is visiting here.

The Presbyterians gave a lawn party in the church yard on Friday evening.

The trade in primings promises to be active this season. Many farmers doubt the propriety of saving them.

The dray horses in town look lazy. They will brisk up when the "backer" season opens.

That's a busy scene day by day at the site of the old Methodist church grounds, upon which the new is being built. Some of our young boys are helping in cleaning the bricks and other light jobs in connection with the work.

Mr. B. L. Anderson was at church on last Sunday and is holding his own very well.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 west 3rd street Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recomended and one 50-cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me for twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering."

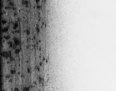
Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys: if it stains your linen, it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.



What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfils every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

THE BLACKSTONE SCHOOL FOR GI...

In 1894, after a careful study of the situation, a Christian Training School was opened at Blackstone, and about $60,000 has been expended in the purchase of twenty-five acres and in the erection of a massive brick building with all the modern appliances of Lighting, Heating, Sanitation. The founders was declared to be to give

"THOROUGH INSTRUCTION UNDER POSITIVE CHRISTIAN INFLUENCES AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE COST."

Instruction—This purpose has been carried out. Thorough instruction is given, and the Blackstone students, in addition to the regular instruction in Literary and Scientific Courses, have received Normal training, all applicants for diplomas being required to take both Theoretical and Practical Pedagogy, including actual teaching in the Model School. The Blackstone certificate or diploma is recognized by educators as to what it says, and about five hundred teachers have shown the practical value of the work of the school.

Characters—But at Blackstone, character is regarded as the student's precious possession, and boarding school life is there known to be a critical time in the formation of character. The greatest aim of the faculty is to direct and stimulate the development of the student's character, and to surround him at all times with influences that will help him to grow into one from distillery to you strong and symmetrical character. Here you can get superior original packages without risk of dilution or sidetrack, without paying two or three profits from distillery to you nit case.

Each teacher is in full sympathy with the object of the school, and hence is in daily personal touch with the students. The atmosphere of the entire school is wholesome, inspiring, and uplifting, and the influences are positively Christian.

Cost—The cost is one-half to one-third as much as at any other school in the State of equal grade. One hundred and fifty dollars ($150) per session pays for Board, Laundry, Medical Attendance and Tuition in all departments except Music and Elocution, which subjects are at exceedingly low rates. It has been the aim from the beginning to keep the cost to the student body sufficiently large to give to parents the benefit of low rates for the best instruction, but not too large for the Principal and his helpers to know each other well and to give her individual care. This result has been attained. If you want your daughter to have thorough instruction under positive Christian influences at the lowest possible cost, write for catalogue to JAMES CANNON, Jr., A. M., Blackstone, Va.

For the next session, twenty scholarships, worth $75.00 each, will be given to young ladies who are unable to meet the full expenses of the school, but who evidently are desirous for an education to be willing to assist the housekeeper in the dining-room.

MY HEART IS ASLEEP.

My heart is asleep I told you so
It sleeps so quiet neath sun, rain or snow.
It cares not how the seasons come or go.

Why will you make me say so twice.
Leave me alone to my own device,
Why should you plead for a heart of ice?

The wind blows east and the wind blows west,
And the little bird rocks soft in it's downy nest,
And my heart sleeps on and takes its rest.

The dew can't last through the noonday's heat,
And flowers can't grow neath trampling feet,
And a brook is lost where the rivers meet.

When the heart that stormed hath fallen asleep
Won d you wake it again to sob and weep
Through the cruel years that slowly creep,

Often the cold, unblushing snow
Hides the volcanoe's fire that rages below.
And ashes and lava some day may flow.

Then wake not the heart that is filled with woe,
And only life's corruption can know,
It has fallen asleep and 'tis better so.

Then let it sleep on and never dream,
It must not hear the ripple of stream,
Or song of bird, or see the sunlight gleam

The stricken deer will leave the herd.
The crushed lily must not be stirred,
And who cares for a wounded, dying bird?

Then wake not the heart neath shadows sleeping,
I cannot give it into thy light keeping.
And to wake it again would cause but weeping.

T. J. Wright, who is in jail here charged with the murder of W. T. McFadden is very reticent, in fact he cannot be induced to talk about the charge against him. He came here and surrendered himself, waiving an examination by a justice. That Wright should have gone to Appomattox to engage counsel for his defense before a warrant had been issued and before charging him with the crime, is much commented on. Also that he should have waived an examination into his case when so little evidence was known of to convict him directly with the crime. McFadden's wife was arrested, as it was thought she had guilty knowledge of the killing, if she did not actually take part in it, but the evidence against her was not such as to prove she had any hand in the last sad act by which her husband lost his life and she was discharged. McFadden was about 45 years old and married his cousin. Mrs. McFadden is a grandmother, while Wright, who is said to have been on intimate with her, is quite a young man. McFadden's neck was broken and it is thought that more than one person took part in the killing, as it is hardly likely that one could hold him and break his neck at the same time. Mrs. McFadden says she heard her husband's voice several times during the night and that she went to the door but was afraid to go out, but not much credit is given to this as one of the coroner's jury said the body was found not more than 25 yards from her house and she had a bell she was in the habit of ringing when she wanted her children to come and this was not rung. McFadden's wife each had a little store and at one or both places it is and whiskey might be had and it seems a wonder something of this kind had not taken place before If something is not promptly done to break up the lawlessness that is carried on in this county, Buckingham will be looked upon as a hotbed of crime, but we feel sure that something will be done and that after the special term of Circuit court, which begins here on the 31st, good people can rejoice that they yet live in a land where crime is promptly punished.

The remains of Miss Sallie Swoope arrived here on Tuesday the 24th and were laid to rest by kind and sympathetic friends, who had been hastily notified of the time of burial by phone. Mr. Fayett Swoope and Misses Mabel and Ruth accompanied the remains from the South. Rev. Plummer F. Jones conducted the burial service in the absence of Rev. Mr. Barrel, who has gone on a vacation.

It was the writer's lot to be called on to bear testimony of the deceased young lady's worth and splendid traits of character when she gave references in applying for a position at the hospital, where she had just graduated in Richmond and thus it happens that in death, as in life I can write, that she was found true to every trust, conscientious and energetic in the discharge of duty, kind hearted towards all, true and affectionate to relatives and friends, a mother's darling, the hope and pride of brothers and sisters. Miss Sallie Swoope was taken just as she was hoping to enter a career of usefulness in her chosen profession; taken in the full vigor of health, is it any wonder that loved ones are so crushed, so utterly bowed down with grief? But devoted christians as are her dear ones, when the first great grief is past they will realize that it may be best for their dear one and recognize the hand of Him "who doeth all things well" and to the bereaved I would say

Courage brother (sister) do not stumble
Though the path be dark at night,
There's a star to guide the humble
Trust in God and do the right."

Dead.

The body of Miss Sarah Harrison Swoope who died of typhoid fever in Columbus Miss. was laid to rest at the old homestead near Buckingham. Miss Swoope was greatly beloved in this community, and the memory of her sweet, christian character will long be cherished. Many were the tokens of love received for her sake by the family. Beautiful flowers accompanied the casket from Columbus, and from the hospital at Richmond, Va., where she graduated last May, they sent the same profusion of flowers they had showered upon her at her graduation. The body was accompanied here by her brother, Lafayette Swoope, and his two younger sisters, Mabel and Ruth.

The Columbus Dispatch says:—

Miss Sarah H. Swoope died at the Columbus Hospital at 8 o'clock Saturday morning the 21st, her death having resulted from typhoid fever, from which she had been a sufferer for six weeks.

Miss Swoope's death was a peculiarly sad one, and has brought a great grief to her kindred and friends.

Deceased was a resident of Buckingham, Va., and came here about two months ago to nurse her sister, who was here on a visit, and who was stricken with fever. The patient recovered, but the nurse was stricken with the disease and suffered until yesterday morning, when her whole spirit mingled its flight to the great beyond, where there is no suffering and where care and sorrow do not exist. Miss Swoope who was the sister of Messrs. T. K. and L. F. Swoope, was only 20 years of age and was a sweet, refined and highly cultured young lady."

Wily.

Mrs. L. C. Laudrum and sister Mrs. L. B. Patterson, of Richmond are visiting their Aunt Mrs. L. D. Taylor.

Misses Annie Gentry, Bessie Landrum and Virginia Patterson are visiting their cousins Misses Mary and Maggie Taylor.

Mr. S. B. Taylor was at home on Sunday last.

Mr. Willie Shepherd was at his father's Sunday.

Miss Agnes Burks, is on a visit to her cousin Miss Emma Burks. We wish her a pleasant trip.

Feel Impending Doom.

The feeling of impending doom in the minds of many victims of Bright's disease and diabetes has been changed to thankfulness by the benefit derived from taking Foley's Kidney Cure. It will cure incipient Bright's disease and diabetes and even in the worst cases gives comfort and relief. Slight disorders are cured in a few days.

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man."

Mr. Phil M. Forbes, died at his home near here on Saturday morning the 21st. He had been ill for some time with consumption, but for several weeks past he was thought to be improving, until a few days before his death a change came for the worse. Mr. Forbes, was for several years a street car conductor in Richmond, and while there he contracted a deep cold which developed into consumption, he was about 33 years old, and an ideal young man. Having united with Bethel Methodist church in early youth, he lived a life of faith, and died trusting in his Savior. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. H. T. Allison, of the Baptist church Sunday afternoon 22nd and the remains were interred in the old family burying ground. There is left an aged mother, two brothers and three sisters, all of which were present at the funeral services.

It seems to us strange why a man should be taken in the prime of life but when we know that it is the will of Him who doeth all things well, we should realize that it was best that he was taken, and may it be a warning to the young that the young as well as the old do die. We extend to the family our sympathy and may they not mourn but live in the hope of meeting in that better and brighter world.

There was a croquet party at Mr. C. A. Harvey's, on the 21st, in honor of Miss Bettie Marshall's birthday. There was a good crowd of the young people gathered in anticipation, of a good time but for the thunder storm which broke up the game for a while, they went in-doors and had some very amusing games until the cloud settled and they played again. Some of the very old people joined in the games and seemed to renew their youth. The crowd feasted bountifully on ice lemonade and cake. Miss Marshall received some nice presents. We wish her a happy return of many such birthdays. Just sweet 17, she is a pretty and attractive young lady.

From Rev. P. M. Bell.

Dear TIMES—I have been too busy for the past several weeks to write a news note on a postal card.

Although Dinwiddie county is "dry" it has been wet, distressingly wet, for two months.

Labor being so scarce many of the farmers had to hustle to keep down the grass and even then hardly succeeded in doing so. But the crops are fine. The wheat was of splendid quality and large yield. The corn crop is immense, tobacco well advanced and better than for many years. The peanut crop is large but the yield will not be what was expected because of the excessive rains. The people are prosperous and contented. The labor question is the serious one here. The people do not take very much interest in politics since the negro vote was eliminated. The people are hospitable and kind. One friend has loaned me a nice Jersey cow, another gave me a pig, quite a number of hams, chickens and other good things have been presented to us. Our parsonage has been refurnished and painted inside. One church assumed all the expense of the painting and paid it. Other improvements will be made. All I have to do is to tell them what I need for the parsonage and they get it.

I have held two meetings. At one church there were three men converted and a deep work of grace wrought in the whole community. At the other church there were about thirty conversions, twenty-four of whom joined our
